Prayer

"One thing I ask from the LORD, this only do I seek: that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to gaze on the beauty of the LORD and to seek him in his temple." Psalm 27:4. Ask that God would enrich us through encountering the beauty of who he is in worship.

Think about how a survivor of conflict may be feeling – angry, sad, scared, or something else. You could ask God to reveal to you how someone is feeling right now. Spend some time praying for survivors who are currently overwhelmed with that specific feeling. Lift them up to God, who is able to comfort and strengthen them.

Be still in God's presence. Give him your worries and anxieties and allow him to fill you with his peace.

Lift up the thousands of children who have been caught up in conflict. Pray that they will have safe spaces to play and learn. Ask God to heal them from their trauma, and give them hope for the future.

Escaping conflict is just the beginning – once people have found safety, they then face the daunting task of rebuilding their lives. Pray for people to find new ways of using their skills to earn an income to support their families.

We often hear about crises in the news when they happen, but rarely about the solutions; these take time and are difficult to report. But God is always moving and there are countless stories of answered prayers and of God's goodness that we can delight in. Spend time praising God for how he uses organisations like Tearfund and Christian Aid to bring hope and support in difficult times.
